

NOTES AND NEWS

Redeemer Renaissance After-School Program

Friday, October 9, 2009

Monday, October 12th is a holiday.

Fairfax County Public Schools and Redeemer Renaissance will be closed

Week In Review

On Monday, Redeemer Renaissance was visited by the McLean Fire Department. On Tuesday, the children drew pictures for and wrote thank you notes to the McLean Fire Department. The rest of the week the children drew and were engaged in various fire safety activities.

Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week is October 4th, through October 10th. Many fire stations including the Mclean Fire Station at 1455 Laughlin Ave. will host open houses Saturday, October 10th from 10:00AM until 4:00PM. You might want to drop by.

Upcoming Event at Redeemer

Redeemer's Preschool will hold their famous semi-annual consignment sale for maternity, infants and children on October 23rd and 24th. If you would like to sell something on consignment, contact Roberta.

Community Service

All of your wonderful school supplies have been delivered to a very grateful NCCF.

With your help 170 bags of groceries weighing nearly 2000 pounds were delivered to 30 needy families over the weekend. If you are interested in expanding your role with the food drive by assisting with sorting, shopping or delivering, let Roberta know.

If you have not returned the registration and permission forms for the Help-The-Homeless Mini-Walk, please do so by Monday.

The beneficiary for our Mini-Walk will be the National Center for Children and Families. Any donation to our Mini-Walk is appreciated. Should you choose to make a gift, you can drop it in the Redeemer Renaissance mailbox. Checks should be made payable to the Redeemer After-School Program with Mini-Walk in the memo line.

Music Lessons

There is still space in the schedules of the guitar, cello, bass, and trumpet teachers.
